STATEMENT IN TABLES

Showing Data Pertaining to Appropriations.

INCREASE OF OFFICES

NUMBER OBTAINED BY THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

Details of the Several Bills of Specific Sums Authorized and of New Positions.

After several weeks of tedious labor Mr. Thomas P. Cleave, clerk of the Senate committee on appropriations, and Mr. James C. Courts, clerk of the House committee on appropriations, have completed the tabulated statement showing the volume of appropriations, new offices created and other data pertaining to appropriations during the first and second sessions of the Fifty-eighth Congress. The first session of the Fifty-eighth Congress was the extra session called by the President for the disposition of the Cuban reciprocity matter. Very few acts carrying appropriations were passed until the regular session began in December last.

The statement just completed is required by law to be published at the end of each session of Congress under the direction of the Senate and House committees on appropriations, and the work of compilation devolves upon the two capable chief clerks. A summary of the appropriations shows a grand total of $781,172,375.18. New offices created amounted to 9,008. Offices abolished or omitted amounted to 1,533, giving a net increase of 8,475. Of this number the District of Columbia got eighty-three, including forty-five additional school teachers and twenty-one additional firemen.

Details of Appropriations.

The details of appropriations by bills are as follows: Agricultural, $5,902,040; army, $77,070,300.88; diplomatic and consular, $2,020,100.69; district of Columbia, $1,018,540; fortification, $18,182,100; Indian, $9,449,940; legislative, executive and judicial, $28,558,238.22; military academy, $73,947,26; navy, $17,505,140.04; pension, $138,390,700; post office, $12,545,986.75; river and harbor, $3,100,000; sundry civil, $7,241,334; deficiency appropriations, $26,771,800.18; miscellaneous appropriations, $1,167,233.52; permanent appropriations, $141,471,830; grand total, $781,172,375.18.

In addition to the specific appropriations made, contracts are authorized to be entered into for the purchase of land, requiring future appropriations by Congress in the aggregate sum of $22,891,300. These contracts cover the following objects and amounts, namely: For one first-class battle ship, two first-class armored cruisers, three scout cruisers and two colliers, exclusive of armor and armament, $21,000,000; boat shop at Puget Sound navy yard, $100,000.

Building and machinery for heating, lighting and power plant for the Capitol building and buildings adjacent thereto, $796,300.

Three lighthouse tenders, $245,000.

Three sewerage systems, including sewers, sewer construction and street improvements, District of Columbia, $650,000, making in all $22,891,300.

A comparison of the contract liabilities with those of the last session of the Fifty-seventh Congress, amounting to $6,989,859.34, shows a reduction of $14,698,559.34.

New Offices Authorized.

The new offices and employments specifically authorized are 9,008 in number, at an annual compensation of $8,813,614.76; and those abolished or omitted are 1,533 in number, at an annual compensation of $1,381,749.52—a net increase of 8,475 in number and $5,431,865.24 in amount. Of this net increase in number 9 are for Congress, 12 for the Library of Congress, 159 for the treasury Department, including 97 for the auditor for the Post Office Department and 33 for office of the treasurer of the United States, 7 for the independent treasury, 7 for mints and assay offices, 12 for the War Department, 2 for the Navy Department, 4 for the Interior Department, 27 for the Post Office Department, 9 for the Department of Justice, 214 for the Department of Commerce and Labor, in lieu of the clerical and other force transferred from other departments and the force paid from lump appropriations amounting to $89,840; 8 for the Department of Agriculture, 85 for the government of the District of Columbia, including 45 school teachers and 21 firemen; 22 for the bureau of fisheries, 14 for the diplomatic and consular service, including 123 assistant postmasters, 2,334 clerks in post offices, and 1,169 railway postal clerks.

Deductions from the increase of 8,475 new salaries and employments include 3,415 officers and enlisted men of the army, the navy and civil employees and seamen for the naval establishment, 4,238 additional employees for the postal service, there remain only 614 provided for all other departments and branches of the public service.

The number of salaries increased is 374, at an annual cost of $64,926.25. Of this number, 10 are in the independent treasury, 5 in the Department of Commerce and Labor, 5 in the Department of Agriculture, 12 diplomatic and consular services, 57 chaplains in the army, 10 in the naval establishment and 12 superintendents of schools in the Indian service. The remaining increased salaries are in various other branches of public service and involve generally small amounts.

Comparison With 1904.

A comparison of the total appropriations of the first and second sessions of the Fifty-eighth Congress, for 1903, $781,172,375.18, with those of the last session of the last Congress, for 1904, $753,058,506.02, shows an increase of $28,113,869.16.

The principal increases by acts are as follows: A river and harbor act of $3,000,000, by the District of Columbia act of $2,380,443, including $988,155 for purification of water supply; $580,000 for bridges; $300,000 to eliminate railroad grade crossings and $300,000 for a municipal building; by the navy act, $15,300,000, by the postal act, $19,004,440, including $18,000 for the rural free delivery service; by deficiency acts, $5,300,229.53, including $4,000,000 for the payment of pensions, and the permanent appropriations are increased $5,882,000, including $5,000,000 for redemption of national bank notes out of the national bank funds in the treasury; $2,500,000 for reclamation of arid lands and $750,000 for supplying arms to the organized militia of the several States.

The reduction of $2,542,148.76, indicated in the sundry civil act, includes $1,355,950 for the various acts, and the permanent appropriation of $1,186,198.76, for the reduction of public buildings throughout the country. Other increases and reductions are made in the various acts, the whole showing a net increase as stated of $28,113,869.16.

Veteran Acquired of Charge.

Special Dispatch to The Evening Star.

NORFOLK, Va., June 21.—James Hanna, a Norfolk-American war veteran and an inmate of the National Soldiers' Home at Hampton, Va., was acquitted in the United States court here this afternoon upon an indictment in which he was charged with making a false claim for an increase of pension at Washington. The government's only evidence against the accused was an affidavit made by the prisoner, and Judge Waddill ruled that a man could not be convicted upon his own evidence alone thus secured by the government.

The higher courts of Mexico have sustained the decision of the lower court in the famous Peonage case, and the government announces its determination to suppress this crime against the citizens.

DELEGATES MEET

were liberally applauded. When he reviewed in figures the increase of the money of the country and announced the enormous sum of gold accumulated the convention became enthusiastic. All of the delegates and figures Mr. Root pronounced without reference to memorandum.

He turned his attention to the administration's regulation of the money market. "But no honest industry has been suppressed," there was a round of approving applause. The declaration that the corporations which encroached on the rights of the public had been curtailed to an extent never before reached, also pleased the convention.

Mr. Root threw back the lapels of his coat. He paced back and forth in a brief space on the platform and enforced his words with quiet gestures, in which his index finger played an important part.

Taft's Name Applauded.

Discussing the Cuban question, Mr. Root read the dispatch from President Palma to President Roosevelt, when the island was turned over. It was the first time he had mentioned the President's name, and the convention grasped the opportunity to applaud. Shortly afterward he brought in the name of Secretary Taft, which was also heartily applauded.

The administration's Panama canal policy received a round of applause when Mr. Root stated that the canal would have postponed its construction to another generation.

Mr. Root's declaration that the building of the Panama canal would have been delayed for another generation but for the insistence of President Roosevelt provoked great cheering.

The Connecticut delegation was provided with large silk American flags, which they waved on every provocation, forming a bright patch of color in the sea of black-coated delegates.

Mr. Root's challenge of "Judgment upon the record of these republican administrations" was the signal for a shout and applause. Reverential silence prevailed as the speaker alluded briefly to the assassination of President McKinley and his place as his successor's record was reviewed.

In Memory of Hanna.

When Mr. Root said "With McKinley we remember Hanna," there was a demonstration, the delegates standing.

Mr. Root closed his address with the words "Theodore Roosevelt," and the most marked demonstration of the session ensued.

The most marked demonstration of the session ensued. The delegates climbed on their chairs and tossed hats and handkerchiefs into the air.

Given Seats in Convention.

The convention unanimously approved the recommendation of the national committee allowing Porto Rico two delegates and the Philippines six delegates with two votes.

The states were then called to obtain names of members of the various committees.

The delegates and spectators began to leave the hall before the roll was completed.

The convention adjourned at 2:12 until noon tomorrow.

CONVENTION GOSSIP.

Movement to Nominate the Ticket by Unanimous Action.

CHICAGO, June 21.—In the hours between breakfast and the start for the hall there was a rather general interchange of ideas among the leaders. The only important result of the informal conferences was the inception of a movement to bring about unanimous action to eliminate the "favorite" candidates for nomination.

The movement to bring about unanimous action to eliminate the "favorite" candidates for nomination is being carried on by the delegates and the national committee. It is pointed out that no great compliment is extended in a vote of this kind for second place on the national ticket
